Course Objective: Type III and Type II certification is required by Minn. R. ch. 7048

Type III Solid Waste Facility Operator Certification Training

This 2 day course (with exam) is training for professionals pursuing careers in demolition waste/industrial waste landfill management. This course develops a level of competency to operate and inspect demolition waste/industrial waste landfills.

The training consists of: Basic math; science, public health issues, rules & regulations, waste screening, asbestos, stormwater issues, facility operations and closure/post closure.

The exam is required to be a certified Type III facility operator. This certification is good for three years.

Type II Solid Waste Facility Operator Certification Training

This 2 day course (with exam) is training for professionals pursuing careers in municipal solid waste management. This course develops a level of competency to operate municipal solid waste landfills.

The training consists of: Basic math, science, public health issues, rules & regulations, waste screening, landfill design, asbestos, stormwater requirements, facility operations and closure/post closure.

The exam is required to be a certified Type II facility operator. This certification is good for three years.

Solid Waste Refresher Training

In order to renew a solid waste certification: Type II requires 18 contact hours over three years; and Type III requires six contact hours over three years. The one day refresher helps operators toward their renewal hours. The one day refresher consists of: ½ day classroom in the morning and a facility tour in the afternoon.
