

The MPCA Watershed Division includes the Feedlot Program and the Watershed Program. The Feedlot Program works in cooperation with many counties to oversee animal agriculture in Minnesota. The Watershed Program works with a variety of local units of government to conduct watershed science to develop strategies for protecting and restoring the state’s lakes and rivers. The Watershed Division has offices located across the state.

- Feedlots
- Watersheds